"War Movement"

Gathers Momentum," Baptist Temple Minister Tells Women's Club

"Youth, whose darling is hard-ship and danger, marches today at the call of a desperately hard patriotism, while the great need is for democratic leadership that will capture their imagination," declared Dr. Daniel A. Poling, minister of the Baptist Temple, Philadelphia, in his address to the Women's Community Club of Narberth at their meeting Tuesday.

"Idealism is not enough. Realism runs wild. The menace of a free state, the highest form of government, is the indifference of its private citizens. There can be no intellectual unity among peace groups. And the war movement gathers momentum, showing the world toward the pit."

"At present the crisis is averted, and democratic nations are arming. But the faint hope of side-stepping a world war lies only in uprisings within Germany or Italy, or in one of these two nations attacking the other. But I do not believe man or democracy is doomed. Youth will tire of totalitarianism because it does not feed the hunger of the soul."

That power which is adequate at last to change men and women is adequate at last to change the world. That power is the teaching of Jesus. And when that comes we will have the leadership we need for our sons and daughters.

Mrs. Chester C. McKibbin was voted as a delegate to the convention of

Girl Scout Spelling Match Tonite in Ard.

Main Line Contestants Will Meet on Stage of Suburban Theatre

The words will be plenty hard at the Girl Scout spelling match to be held on the stage of the Suburban Theatre at nine o'clock tonight, according to David Titleman, theater manager.

Mr. Titleman will do his best to eliminate all but eight girls, who will become the team which carries the Main Line Girl Scouts' hope of victory to the 4-district spell down to be broadcast over Station WIP, April 16, from 4 to 5 P. M. Mr. Titleman will present prizes to the team from Harry Fried, Suburban owner.

Contestants reported as we go to press are: Barbara Woodrow, Eugenia Thaysen, Rita Gillespie, Margaret Deer, Claire DeHart and Shirley Bailey, of Narberth; Mary Loy Schoenhut and Patsy Taft, of Merion; Marjorie Donohue and Ann Lynch, of Cynwyd; Gertrude Tate and Paula Musser, of Overbrook.

Lighting Windows

and store interiors in order to sell more merchandise, was the topic of twenty members of the Narberth Business Council at an informal meeting for storekeepers, Monday night in the Arcadia Restaurant. Interesting talks, illustrated with picture views, were given by the Philadelphia Electric Company's W. Gilbert Brown, supervisor of the Bureau of Exhibits and Displays, on "Window Merchandising," and J. H. Rich, director of Retail Promotion, on "3-Second Selling." President Ralph S. Dunne presided.

Vice-President

MRS. ROBERT FELLOWS WOOD of Narberth, elected vice-president of the Garden Club of Bala-Cynwyd at the meeting Thursday morning, held in the Woman's Club of Bala-Cynwyd.

"1c to $10,000"

Was Wayne D. Burnside's Topic at Rotary, Tuesday

The Bala-Cynwyd assistant postmaster told the Bala-Cynwyd-Narberth Service Club that the U. S. Post Office Department has nothing to sell but service; that this extends from penny postcards up to transactions of $10,000—which is the maturity value of the maximum U. S. Savings Bonds available for purchase by any one individual in one year.

Postal Savings, he said, cannot exceed $2500 for each depositor, and a total of $1,250,000,000 was held in trust for depositors as of June 30, last year.

There are 46,000 postoffices and branches, with 400,000 employees. Mr. Burnside told how the Civil Service selects employees and keeps them up to snuff with annual mental exams ("scheme" examinations), semi-annual inspections of carriers on their routes, and other check-ups.

The department last year had an audited income, he said, of $726,000,000, which would have meant a profit of nearly $13,000,000, were it not for the mailing of non-postal items, whose expense was $59,000,000.

Mr. Burnside commended the present administration for instituting modern business accounting, making available knowledge of the postoffice business (which is also an indication of general business) within 20 days after the close of each month.

Visitors Tuesday were J. Ralph Wilson, Joseph M. Hildreth, Robert Merrill, E. H. Herner and J. H. Eckels.

Ballots were distributed for election of officers, and the results will be announced next week. Also at next Tuesday's meeting, life-history talks will be given, as is customary, by two of the new members: Dr. Charles L. Deardorff and Albert F. W. Vick, Jr., both of Cynwyd.

Typhoid Scare Evaporates

Allen Harston, 861 Montgomery avenue, Narberth, patient at Bryn Mawr Hospital, reported as having typhoid fever, is a pneumonia victim. Dr. George A. Sloan, of Narberth, president of the Montgomery-Delaware Counties Public Health Association, said that preliminary diagnosis of Harston's condition indicated either typhoid or pneumonia and that further test failed to show any typhoid germs.

Columnist Gives Business Council And Borough Boost in Met Press

"Guard" commented Wednesday in his celebrated column in the Philadelphia Inquirer, on new activities of the Narberth Business Council:

The bridge problem has been solved for Narberth ladies. I do not mean troubles in making the proper bid nor when not to plunge into an over-call.

But Narberth Business Council, of which Ralph Dunne is president, now volunteers to look after the children in that bustling suburb while mamma spends the evening at cards or in the movie. Which promises to promote the goings-out in that Main Line centre of civic regeneration numerous beyond precedent.

That business council is a 24-karat go-deer. With a pretty young hostess to greet officially now all new arrivals, who can afford in the future to stay away from Narberth?

It was the first one of our opulent suburbs to dress up Main street for Santa Claus, and for 17 out of the past 33 years it has won the baseball pennant.

Washington came to Narberth 30 years ago to get its now well-advertised Japanese cherry trees. President Dunne, who is Narberth's coal baron, says "what the Indians called the town we don't know," nor does it matter. White pioneers named it Elm from a huge tree on Narberth avenue.

Long ago, however, to keep in unison with so many other delightful spots to the westward of the big city, residents went to Wales and selected Narberth for a name.

This Dunne fellow is a practical chap, as note this statement he made for me: "Much is being said about government help for small business. Little is being said about what small business can do to help itself"—if permitted to do so unmolested.

N. B.—The Business Council does not precisely volunteer to look after children; merely offers to collect and give information about housemaids, school girls and such. And perhaps, next December, to maintain a nursery in the business section where children will be supervised at play while mothers are shopping.

The Famous

Athletic Colony of Narberth Will Have a New Member the latter part of this month when Richard H. Wallace establishes his home at 15 Windsor avenue.

Former player on the borough baseball team, he was captain of Penn's diamond squad in 1915 and played four years on the freshman and varsity teams. He was also a member of the basketball quintet.

He purchased his home here last Saturday through Robert J. Nash. Opposite the playground, the property was held for $7,000.

Mrs. Wallace is the former Miss Dorothy King, daughter of Mrs. Leonard King, of West Philadelphia. Mr. Wallace is in the real estate department of the Provident Trust Company.

31 Cases of Contagious disease were reported in Narberth during March, according to George B. Supplee, health officer. They were: Mumps, 10; scarlet fever, 4; chicken pox, 11; measles, 3; pneumonia, 3.

He also reported issuing nine food handler permits during the month at a routine meeting of the borough Board of Health Tuesday night at Elm Hall. Daniel Leitch, president, presided, and Mrs. R. C. Hoffman and Arthur L. Cooke, members, were present.

Around Our Town

You can see the Library and Community Building better now, thanks to Burgess Frank Schrepfer and Narberth's Shade Tree and Recreation Boards. The low-hanging trees and the shrubs have been cleared and the expected next step will be a paved walk.

Lower Merion police have chased cats off poles and birds off trees, but never until Monday a duck off a roof. Mrs. George E. Kohn, Clarendon road, Penn Valley, couldn't shoo it away so Motorcycle patrolman Herbert Wilson did. Duck soup might have been his, but he missed the tail feathers and it flapped away.

Those choir-rehearsed Hosannas and Hallelujahs and Alleluias resounding in the churches these spring evenings, forecast a jubilant Palm Sunday and Easter. Church attendance here has been on the up and up, lately; robbing of point the ministerial wise crack of an Easter Day: "Brethren, I'm glad to see so many unaccustomed faces; I'm wishing you visitors a happy Easter—and also in case I don't see you until then, a merry Christmas."

Why the fence beside the bank and in front of the garage? Ask Otto Kleus, the garageman, and Robert J. Nash, who put it up.

While Rotarians Raymond Watrous and W. James Drennen lunched together at Overbrook Golf Club Tuesday, their cars had a smash-up. The principal's coasted from its uphill parking place and bumped the undertaker's shiny new blue car most non-fraternally.

Several singers from Narberth and nearby sang the magnificent Bach mass Sunday afternoon in Philadelphia, helping David Spratt's choir.

Split and Unity

Mark Republican Activities in Montgomery County During Week

Indication of a serious split in county Republican ranks earlier in the week was tempered Wednesday when Fred C. Peters, Ardmore, president of the Board of Commissioners, and Harold C. Pike, Cheltenham Township leader, were both reported as favoring the candidacy of Judge Arthur H. James for governor.

The unity, probably of virtually all organization leaders, for James was a blow to the Pinchot forces, who are headed by Adolph Muller, Norristown

P. T. A. Date

Changed From 18th to 21st; Psychologist Will Speak

The Narberth Parent-Teacher Association has changed its monthly meeting date from Monday, April 18, to Thursday evening, April 21, at eight o'clock, at the Narberth School auditorium.

Edward M. Twitmyer, director of the student personnel of Girard College, will speak on "Factors Influencing the Character Development of Children." Mr. Twitmyer has set up a psychological service for the 1700 students to handle their individual problems.

Before coming to Girard College, he was a member of the psychological department at the University of Pennsylvania for thirteen years.

Coops Elect Officers

At the monthly meeting of the Narberth Co-operative Club held Monday evening at the home of Dr. Forrest Comfort, 108 Chestnut avenue, officers for the ensuing year were elected. They are:

President, Rollin Sidwell; vice-president, Mrs. William N. Loucks; secretary, Mrs. Frank Butterworth; treasurer, Mrs. Corwin Perisho.

Planning Firemen's Banquet

The Mulieres of the Narberth Fire Company will hold their monthly meeting in Elm Hall on Monday afternoon at 2 P. M., when plans for the annual fireman's banquet to be held on April 21, will be discussed.

Ed Pollock will be the principal banquet speaker.

Narberth Players

To Give Original Play by One of its Members

At the monthly meeting to be held Tuesday evening at Elm Hall the Narberth Players will present "Miss Twenty One" a short two-act play by Faith Farmer. Refreshments will be served as usual.

Rehearsals are well under way for the Players' thirty-first production "Big Hearted Herbert" to be given Friday and Saturday, the 29th and 30th, under the direction of Faye Fetterolf.

One of the features of this production will be an unusually fine set being specially built for this play and will allow for the largest square footage ever used in any of the Players' productions. The set will be painted by Charles J. Clark, who will be remembered for the fine sets he created for "Sun-up," "The Bad Man" and "Bunt Pulls the Strings."

Rod and Gun Club Members

at the April meeting of the Lower Merion organization, on the 20th, will hear A. B. Leckie, special agent in charge of the Philadelphia office of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, talk about the apprehension of criminals. Officers of the club will be elected at the session.

Last Thursday night at Wynnwood House 45 members and guests of the club enjoyed the annual dinner-dance.

Guffey Forces

Win County Chairman's Backing for Kennedy and Wilson

Matthew H. McCloskey's Jones-for-Governor organization was stiffly jolted this week when Frank J. Bradley, chairman of the Montgomery County Democratic Committee, turned in for U. S. Senator Joseph Guffey's Kennedy-Wilson ticket.

Bradley brought nearly 200 of the Montgomery party committee along with him, and took occasion to assail contractor-boss domination.

Indication that it is a patronage fight between Federal and State forces was strengthened by the fact that a number of postmasters, including three Main Liners, Ambrose Connelly, Rosemont; Joseph L. Kelley, Narberth, and Daniel J. McDonough, Ardmore, were among the delegation who cheered Bradley's announcement.

Contests

for children will mark National Air Mail Week, May 15-21. For details of a poster contest for grammar school children and an essay contest for high school students, see Postmaster Joseph L. Kelley and watch this paper.

Easter Vacation

in the Narberth School begins at the close of school this Friday, the 8th, and ends Tuesday morning, April 19.

Good Friday

A Holy-Day, is the Aim of the Knights of Columbus

The Main Line's Bishop Kenrick Council, Ardmore, has issued an invitation for all places of amusement and business to close next Friday from noon till 3 P. M., while Christian churches of all denominations hold special services; and at 2.59 P. M., for all traffic to halt one minute.

The council by annual custom observes Passion Sunday at some church in a body. Last Sunday 175 attended the 7.30 Mass at St. Margaret's in Narberth; afterwards 113 had breakfast at the Arcadia Restaurant.

In a fine editorial, "Good Friday Observance," last week the Ardmore Chronicle commended the move for greater respect, reverence and worship on the Crucifixion Day, and quoted from Francis Sayre's "The World Crisis—and Christ" in the April Good Housekeeping:

"A people without faith in the goodness of life cannot go forward. Our present civilization is built essentially upon a materialistic philosophy. It puts its faith in material possessions, material force, the reality only of the tangible and visible. Those who spend their lives seeking to amass material possessions and who succeed in largest measure often awake in after years to find their lives starved of the really precious and genuine satisfactions of life. Materialism is not yielding practical results."

Narberth P. O. Tops Savings Bond Sales

Merion 2nd, Haverford 3rd in First Year Summary of Main-Line Group

Narberth post office tops the field of United States Savings Bond sales on the Main Line, a summarization of the first year's activity, released this week, reveals.

Merion post office is second and Haverford third, the summary shows. And to little Devon goes the distinction of being ranked No. 1 in the entire district under the rating system effective in Treasury Department circles.

The detailed analysis of daily sales began September 1, 1936, and the summarization in question is for the year ending August 31, 1937. The maturity value sale for that period was $636,748,500, or an average sale of $2,101,500 for each business day. The record for one day's sale was set on Monday, January 10, 1938, when sales amounting to $10,029,775 were reported. The total maturity value of the bonds sold through March 7, 1938, amounted to $1,584,462,875, purchased by more than 1,260,000 investors. This represents an average daily sale of $1,720,375, a notable increase over the average computed for the first completed year.

The information is supplied by courtesy of Narberth Postmaster

JOSEPH L. KELLEY

For the year ending August 31, 1937, it shows a total sale of bonds amounting to $199,812.50. In this group, Narberth was first with $41,356.25; Merion second with $32,325, and Haverford third with $29,062.50.

A case analysis shows the $100 bond unit is the most popular denomination and has accounted for 30.38 per cent of all sales. The $25 unit is next, with 23.71 per cent, and the $50 unit third with 18.49 per cent. The $1000 unit accounted for 18.19 per cent, and the $500 unit accounted for 9.23 per cent.

A New Feature

for Our Town is this "Colquhoun," written for you by one of your neighbors. I hope you like it as well as I do.

THE EDITOR.

G. A. Studdert-Kennedy writes: "The other day I saw a lamp post. I had never seen one before and it was a marvelous revelation. I was walking along in a brown study and I bumped into one, and I looked up and said, 'My God!' Most unseemly for a clergyman, you say. Not a bit of it. . . . A lamp post is a much clearer and fuller revelation of God than a star, because behind the lamp post there is a man, and man's long battle with the darkness."

Now that is good religion, good theology and very good common sense. Of course, it is pretty hard to have to see the light by bumping your head against a lamp post, but if you do see the light (and I don't mean stars!) it's worth it.

Then you begin to get the idea that others may also come to see at least some glimmering of light upon their shadowy, even dark, path. You say to yourself, "Surely there ought to be a better, a gentler, way than mine was." And there is.

William Heilman was a patient of the renowned John Rathbone Oliver. One night two Boy Scouts came to him for help in making lanterns out of coffee tins they had brought with them. He took them down to his workshop in the cellar and by ten o'clock the work was finished. Let him tell the rest of the story.

"In a box of odds and ends I retrieved some stubs of candles that had been burned short in the seven-branched lights on the altar. It was a dark night, and the street lamp at the corner was temporarily out. The lads hurried homeward, light streaming from their lanterns."

When I was a small lad I lived in the city. Before the door of our house was—of all things—a lamp post. Every evening, through the gathering twilight, there came to my boyish imagination—Leerie! Maybe you have forgotten him, or—sad to contemplate—perhaps you never knew him.

"For we are very lucky, with a lamp before the door, And Leerie stops to light it as he lights so many more; And O! before you hurry by with ladder and with light, O Leerie, see a little child and nod to him tonight!"

Out of that lovely poem of Stevenson with its, for me, very wistful charm, I should like to quote two other lines that might well be the real desire and ambition of you and me.

"But I, when I am stronger and can choose what I'm to do, O Leerie, I'll go round at night and light the lamps with you!"

THE LAMPLIGHTER.

Benjamin Ludlow Marries His Secretary in Quiet Ceremony

Benjamin Ludlow, former Ardmore resident and State Representative, was married last Thursday to his secretary at a quiet wedding in Haverford. Mr. Ludlow is 55 and his bride is 35. She has been his secretary for the past ten years.

The ceremony was performed by the bride's father, the Rev. Charles P. Warner, retired Baptist minister, at their home, 419 Berkeley road, Haverford. After a short wedding trip, they will make their home in Philadelphia.

Mr. Ludlow, a Philadelphia attorney, is special deputy Attorney General, investigating vice and gambling in the city. He was divorced by his first wife, Mrs. Josephine Crozier Ludlow, 225 Glenn road, Ardmore, in May, 1937, on the charge of desertion.

"Red Headed Stepchild" is the three-act comedy drama to be presented April 21, 22, by the Junior Luther League of the Lutheran Church. The players, directed by Dorothy Elwood, include Hilda Howell, Patricia Cowie, Anita MacFarland, Dorothy Mackell, Kathryn Bailly, Sara Yoder, Bessie Rhoades, Dorothy Rhoades, Lois Shewell; Elmer Klapper, August Klapper, Winfred Shewell and Jack Howell.

In the Mailbag

Editor Elwood:

The thought occurred to me if some time in the near future you would suggest to your readers what a help it would be to have all the houses numbered. There are any number of houses in Narberth and vicinity with no numbers and I know it will be a great help. Places where the house is a distance from the street, a small piece of wood with a number or the name would be so helpful to delivery men also in case of fire.

I have noticed in particular in going to fires where we run past the house till we locate a number and have to go back. This, of course, is where it would help considerably in emergency. I believe if this was stressed on the property owners they will co-operate and being inexpensive for a very attractive number or name block, will be to their advantage.

Very truly yours,

J. A. MILLER,
Narberth Fire Chief.

Some non-fiction titles, recently published and otherwise which have been received in the Narberth Community Library:

"Tapestry, the Mirror of Civilization," by Phyllis Ackerman. A publication of the Oxford Press which is an historical survey of the subject from ancient times through the nineteenth century. Contains plates in black and white.

"Understanding human nature," by Alfred Adler. The fundamentals of individual psychology.

"Christopher Marlowe," by J. E. Bakewell. A definitive life full of human interest.

"An Experiment With Time," by J. W. Dunne. It should interest readers of Forman's "Story of Prophecy" since it deals with the forecasting of future events. It is, however, a bit technical in parts, especially when speaking of the fourth dimension.

"Hell on Ice," by Edward Ellsberg. Story of the "Jeanette," which embarked in 1879, sponsored by the United States Navy, to find the North Pole.

"Plot and Counterplot in Central Europe," by M. W. Fodor. Political troubles "South of Hitler," particularly in the Balkan states.

"Egyptians," by S. R. K. Glanville. An English publication concerning the life and customs in ancient Egypt. "Man's Worldly Goods," by Leo Huberman. This is a well illustrated and extremely readable history of industry.

"Unemployment in the Learned Professions," by W. M. Kotsching: An international study, up-to-date in its information regarding overcrowding in the professions.

"All's Fair," by Henry Landau. A history of the British Secret Service in Germany during the World War. "Home Grown," by Della Lutes. Successor to "Country Kitchen" and equally delightful in its portrayal of country life a generation ago.

"Men Wanted," by Frances Maule. Vocational guide for young men. "The Movies Come From America," by Gilbert Selles, is a critical history of the moving pictures. It is intelligent in its criticism, and is interestingly illustrated with stills from pictures old and contemporary.

"Old Williamsburg and Her Neighbors," by W. O. Stevens. A good book to "read before you travel."

"Defoe," by J. R. Sutherland. A well written and scholarly biography of the author of Robinson Crusoe.

Dr. Leon Robison to Speak at Mothers' Council Wed.

Dr. Leon Robison, assistant pastor of the First Baptist Church of Philadelphia, will speak at the monthly meeting of the Main Line Branch of the Interdenominational Community Mothers' Council in the Lower Merion Baptist Church, Lancaster avenue, Bryn Mawr, on Wednesday, April 13, at 1 P. M.

"Growth in Religious Concepts of Children" will be his topic.

All mothers in the community are invited to hear him. Provisions will be made to care for the children during the meeting.

Beery, Young and Singers at Narberth

"Bad Man of Brimstone" is rolling thru in the aisles at the Narberth Theatre this week-end. . . . Wallace Beery is a riot of fun.

Robert Young demonstrates that he has hair on his chest in "A Yank at Oxford," which Narberth will play Monday and Tuesday.

"Everybody Sing," which stars Tenor Allan Jones, Swing Songstress Judy Garland and Comedienne Fannie Brice, is a delightfully funny story of an unusual family . . . coming next Wednesday and Thursday.

Ending next week—Joan Crawford and Spencer Tracy are due in "Mannequin."

"The Baroness and the Butler" Now Playing at the Suburban

The rich, modern, luxurious settings and backgrounds of "The Baroness and the Butler," reflect in correct detail the high European social circle in which the two chief actors move during the action of the story. Debonair William Powell and Annabella, Europe's loveliest personality, are co-starred in the screen hit now at the Suburban Theatre.

The Jones Family's newlyweds get off to a flying start, but Dad has to fly to the rescue in "Love On A Budget," opening Wednesday at the Suburban Theatre. The bride runs to Mother, and "Get-Rich-Quick" Uncle Charlie moves in for the winter, so it's a full house and a madhouse for America's favorite family.

A MOTHER FOR A MINUTE

It was close to midnight. At the switchboard in a small town telephone office sat a lone operator answering an occasional call. "Number, please? . . . Thank you. . . Number, please. . . Thank you. . . Number, please. . . Thank you. . . But on this call, no request for a number was heard. Instead, a child's voice sobbed, "Mummy, please come home. Come home, mummy, I'm scared!"

Noting the telephone number, the operator said, "All right, dear, you go back to bed. I'm coming home right away."

Then—quickly—she looked up the address of the telephone. . . then the number of the telephone next door. She called that number. Did the neighbor know where the child's mother might be? She did. . . oh, she was right there? Then—but you can guess the rest—except this:

That operator of ours is mighty proud of a letter she received from a very grateful mother of a little child who was "scared."

And it occurs to us that even a grown-up can feel a little safer—a little more secure both day and night—when there's a telephone in the home. The Bell Telephone Company of Pennsylvania.

Mrs. Royal D. Thomas, of Baeburn lane, who has been spending several days in New York, is expected to return today.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank A. Bedford, Jr., of Baeburn lane, will entertain at a buffet supper on April 16.

Sh-h-h. . . .
What prominent Narberth citizen got absent-minded recently in California? First time we've heard of mailing a suit by Air Mail—especially without coat or vest.

Then there's the young man who lost his shirt. 'Twas last Saturday afternoon, on Iona avenue, between the tap room and the Sunshine Garage, and a chill mist rivaled his inner wetness.

Perhaps it was the ruts. . . . The Ervines, in Narbrook Park, had four flats in two days . . . so they bought a new car. Now all they need is a new road.

Any time your party lags, call on Don.

Joining the Well-Dressed

group at the Narberth Men's Shop are William Henderson last week, and last Monday, Frank Silvestri.

Baker-White Date Set

Easter Morning*

WE FEEL sure of that, if the Family will allow us to help with its Easter preparations. For so many years, we have helped families here, there, and everywhere for many miles around, that we have acquired the knack.

In this bright, new store, our customers' comfort and convenience come first. The season finds us all set with new things everywhere, displayed for easy selection. We invite you to make a leisurely tour of the departments most interesting to you, see the new fashions, the summer furnishings, the garden requisites. You will find it as refreshing as an excursion to the country on an early day in Spring.

IF YOU haven't seen the Spring Fashion Story illustrated, visit our Fashion Departments. The lines and colors that have been names heretofore, will become the most pleasing and satisfying facts for you.

The smart things this Spring are the "classics"—the staples that have become high fashion—and that makes Spring shopping simple, easy and economical. If you live by a budget—nothing could be more helpful than the prices this Spring. There seems to be more style to the dollar than we've ever known before.

MAKE your appointment with the Beauty Salon early. These weeks will be crowded ones for this department. Also, don't forget to order your cooked ham for Easter in the restaurant, and your Easter Egg Cake of pure butter pound cake.

If you are too busy to shop in person these days, telephone—we'll do the rest. And let us know if we can be of service in any other way. In other words, we've always felt that service was nine-tenths of a merchant's job, and this is just another bright beautiful new season in which to prove it.

Books for the Garden

What to prune, to plant, to plan? Here is a list of books, available at a discount through your local publisher (phone Narberth 3637). The brand new ones have their publication date listed.

The Garden Encyclopedia, Edited by E. L. D. Seymour. $3.65. 1408 pages, 750 illustrations—every question about gardening answered by experts.

Audel's Gardeners' and Growers' Guide, by E. C. Vick. 4 vols., each $1.50.

Standard Cyclopedia of Horticulture, by Liberty H. Bailey. 3 vols. Per set $15.00. Illustrated with color plates, 4000 engravings in the text, and 96 full-page cuts.

The Complete Garden, by Albert D. Taylor and Gordon B. Cooper. $1.98.

Garden Bulbs in Color, by J. Horace McFarland, B. Marion Hatton and Daniel J. Foley. $3.75. Like "Garden Flowers in Color," the text is confined to the bare bones of cultural fact for amateurs, and the pictures (257 colored photos and 100 halftones) do the rest.

Bulbs for Your Garden, by Allen H. Wood, Jr. $2.75.

South African Bulbs for American Gardens, by Sarah V. Coombs. $4.50.

Annuals, by Roy Hay. $2.00. In addition to the detailed descriptions of a wide range of Annuals, arranged alphabetically, the book contains valuable chapters on cultivation, the uses of Annuals, and other subjects. Illustrated in color and monochrome with photographs taken by the author direct from nature.

The Garden in Color, by Louise B. Wilder. $7.50. Here, in 320 natural color reproductions, are some 500 of the finest plants which may be grown in American gardens and homes. With them are descriptions, comments, and full practical cultural advice. A beautiful and practical book for the gardener.

Gardening Short Cuts, by M. G. Kains. $1.00.

1001 Garden Questions Answered, by Alfred C. Hottes. $2.00. Revised edition.

New Gardens for Old, by H. S. Orloff and H. B. Raymore. $2.00.

Our Ferns: Their Haunts, Habits and Folklore, by Willard N. Clute. $4.00. New edition.

When a ventriloquist sings a duet with his dummy, that's something; and when the dummy feeds the ventriloquist the gags, that's something more. . . . The minister told the penniless groom "all your weddings are on a cash basis, starting right now"—so the bride fished out the four bits from "her" stocking. The best man couldn't find the ring so the bride avowed she guessed her old one would suffice. . . . "All right, ma, I'll go to the store for the groceries; shall I go to the chain store this time—or are we broke again?" . . . Quite a minstrel show the Baptist and Methodist men gave last Friday night. The audience, 300, seemed to like it as well as did Interlocutor Keighton and his black-face comedians and painted-face singers. . . . Wow! What a job, removing make-up.

That was a real hobo who panned the town Sunday morning. . . . Accepting a dime impaired his professional standing; he preferred a home-brewed cup of coffee.

Rumors are flying about locations for self-service grocery stores. The Cynwyd Garage is mentioned for one; Montgomery pike, Narberth, has been mentioned; and next door to the Narberth Theater; and, of course, the big A. & P. across from Cotter's.

Risser's grocery delivery truck was forced off Wynnewood road at the underpass in Narberth last Friday, and made an unexpected delivery of groceries, for yards around.

The biggest local news event in quite some time is brewing.

Josef Hofmann, Merion pianist and inventor, played with the Philadelphia Orchestra Monday, marking the 50th anniversary of his "wonder child" American debut at the same Academy of Music. This week-end he plays at New York's Carnegie Hall, prior to sailing for London, where he will play at Queen's Hall, April 25. His first public performance was in his native land, Poland, at the age of five.

State Federation of Pennsylvania Women, meeting at Pittsburgh, May 4, 5, and 6, with Mrs. J. H. Speck as alternate.

Forty-one names were proposed for the three vacancies on the Board of Directors in ballots mailed in to make the ticket for election of officers at the April 19 meeting, but the ticket will contain only the three who received 25 per cent of the votes. Other names may be proposed from the floor. Other officers to be elected are: Second vice-president, recording secretary and treasurer.

Mrs. G. B. Supple, art chairman, announced a trip to New York April 26 for all club members. The group will leave on the Reading from Jenkintown at 7:40 A. M., or from Philadelphia at 7:20, on a streamlined train. Busses will take them in New York to the Decorators' Club, a private exhibition, and one of the larger galleries. Total expenses, including lunch at the Waldorf-Astoria, will be $6.50. They will return at 7 P. M.

Club members are urged to take exhibits of Arts and Crafts and of spring flowers to the Montgomery County meeting at Souderton, April 21.

Mrs. C. J. Goodyear, citizenship chairman, announced the setting aside of April 8 as Forefathers' Day as a Pennsylvania State holiday by Governor Earle, in observance of 300 years of Godly civilization in Pennsylvania.

Those wishing to buy the Wildlife stamps for collections call Mrs. H. A. Jacobs, conservation chairman. The plate will be destroyed at the end of a year, and the stamps will increase in value. Any number can be bought.

Dogwood and spring plants will be sold at the April 19 meeting, when Adolph Muller, president of the Mont-

Borough Council will meet Monday, 8 P. M., Elm Hall.

Phyllis Joyce Elwood celebrated her eighth birthday on Monday with an afternoon party. The guests included June Schrepper, Louise Watts, Sue Goranillo, Barbara Paul, Marion Jones, Marjorie Yetter, Virginia Basler, Mary Jane Edson, Helen Eshleman and Tommy Elwood.

Sailer—Warner

The marriage of Miss Elmore Stanley Warner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Olmsted Warner, of Penn Valley, and Mr. John Wyeth Sailer, of Philadelphia, son of Mrs. William Augustus Sailer and the late Mr. Sailer, of Roland Park, Md., took place at four o'clock on Saturday, April 2, in the Washington Memorial Chapel, Valley Forge. The Rev. John R. Hart, rector of the church assisted by the Rev. Rex Stowers Clements, officiated.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of ivory satin fashioned on princess lines, with a heart-shaped neckline and heart-shaped train and long sleeves with shirring at the wrists. Her short tulle veil was caught across the back of her head with the bride's mother wedding lace of rosepoint falling almost to the waist in front and the hipline at the back. She carried an old fashioned round bouquet of white rosebuds and lilies-of-the-valley finished with a ruff of tulle. Miss Sally Garrigues Winslow, of Cambridge, Mass., who was the maid of honor and only attendant for the bride, wore a frock of powder blue net with a fitted bodice, puffed sleeves and a full skirt trimmed with a cording of the same material. Her hat was a pink bako straw bonnet tied under the chin with blue net. Her lippers were of pink and blue satin. She carried an old fashioned round bouquet of pink roses, delphinium with a ruff of blue net.

Mr. James F. Miller, of Baltimore, acted as best man for Mr. Sailer and the ushers included Mr. Lyman D. Warner, of Chicago, brother of the bride; Mr. Phillip M. Brown, of Essex Falls, N. J., and Mr. Paul E. Laferty, of Roland Park, Md., brothers-in-law of the bridegroom, and Mr. E. Paul Norris, of Baltimore, Md.

Miss Helen Henshaw, of Schenectady, N. Y., cousin of the bride, played the organ. The church was decorated in lilies, white stocks and white snapdragons.

Mrs. Warner wore a model of royal blue crepe with touches of white at neck and cuffs. Her corsage was of sweetheart roses and freesias.

Mrs. Sailer, mother of the bridegroom, wore a gown of periwinkle blue and a corsage of gardenias.

A small reception at the home of the bride's parents followed the ceremony.

Upon their return from a wedding trip, by automobile to Sea Island, Ga., Mr. Sailer and his bride will reside at 1828 West Tioga street, Philadelphia. They will be at home after April 15.

Miss Warner is a graduate of Friend's Central School, attended Martha Washington College, Abington, Va.; the Philadelphia School of

One of the most pleasing prizes at the Narberth Junior Women's Community Club Fashion Show recently was a Belcano facial treatment. Last week's article omitted the name of its donor—Mrs. Frederick W. Lacey, 116 Anthwyn road, Merion. Belcano cosmetics, "the fountain of youth," were created, as Mrs. Lacey puts it, "to meet every need of the skin, keeping it beautifully cleansed, toned and vitalized, and stimulating circulation—which permits your blood to keep your skin lovely and youthful."

TIME OUT

Pennypacker Field saw Lower Merion's baseball team for the first time this season on Tuesday afternoon when Coach John Fetter's nine defeated Roxborough High 5 to 2 in a seven-inning game. Clint Alexander, former Narberth School student, held the visitors to 5 hits and those were scattered very nicely through the innings.

After Episcopal defeated the Bulldogs last week there was some doubt if the local lads would show much in the way of baseball this spring, but if Alexander can produce as much speed and as nice a curve ball as he used in the Tuesday game throughout the season, the Maroon squad will turn in some victories. A cool wind was blowing across the diamond throughout the game, but it did not seem to interfere with Alexander's effectiveness at any time. Frank Wilson, senior third baseman, scored twice for the locals and turned in some nice plays afield.

Coach Fetter has lined up two more games on the home grounds for his players this week. Overbrook will be next.

On Tuesday morning members of the Lower Merion Junior High basketball team were awarded the medals which they won as champions of Montgomery County. LeRoy "Pete" Lewis, Norristown High School coach, represented the Norristown Men's Association and presented the medals to the players and also presented to the school the basketball trophy which went to the winner of the county tournament.

The veil was definitely drawn across the basketball picture last week so far as local interest was concerned when the Egyptians (Paine, Hackett, Wilson, Hook, Sherwood, Jones, Davis, et al), lost to the Villanova College freshman team. George Paine and Bob Hackett were the boys who organized and inspired these followers of King Farouk, and under their leadership the lads from the River Nile and Bala avenue did right well. They defeated several good teams and even led in the last one until the final quarter was well under way. The stronger and more mature college boys finally showed their superiority and emerged the winner by three or four points.

TOMMY MACKLIN.

Mrs. Mary K. McHose was buried in the Charles Evans Cemetery at Reading Tuesday afternoon. She died Sunday morning at her Narberth home of pneumonia, after an illness of a week.

Mrs. McHose, who was 85, was the widow of Ambrose Allen McHose, and is survived by two sons, Isaac McHose, Dudley avenue, a borough auditor, and Kern W. McHose, of Shady lane; a sister, Mrs. Ella Moore, Harrisburg, and a brother, Will Kern, of Nebraska.
